That's the number of steps it used to take me to get from my desk to the basement location where our archived transcripts are kept in fire proof file cabinets, and back again.

ZERO

That's the number of steps I now have to take to get a transcript!!
I'm really mad at the FreeDoc people. You've ruined my exercise program!

Seriously though, I have been so very impressed with the care taken with "my" precious paper, with the manner in which business is conducted and the customer relationship that is quickly built and maintained. It has been a pleasant and professional interaction every step of the way. Given the opportunity, I would have no hesitation recommending the fine folks at FreeDoc.

Most sincerely,
